

What is GMEA (Georgia Music Educators Association) In Service Conference?

The GMEA (Georgia Music Educators Association) In-Service Conference is an annual event held in Athens, Georgia in which music teachers (Band, Orchestra, Chorus, and General Music) from elementary through college in the state of Georgia as well as other states participate.

The purpose of this convention is to raise the standards of music education; to develop new teaching techniques; to disseminate to school teachers, directors and supervisors and other interested in music education, information to assist in their professional work; to examine, analyze and appraise literature dealing with music.

Many clinics, lectures and demonstrations are held for the betterment of music education. Thus, it is our goal to display an utmost level of musical excellence at the GMEA In-Service Conference, as we will represent our Johns Creek High School, Fulton County, and this particular community at this state music convention.

This is a great honor for our school and for our students. We are very excited about this opportunity and look forward to experiencing music at this prestigious performance venue.
